VASHINGTON, Dec. 15 .- [Exclusive Dispatch.] The Union Iron Works of San Francisco was knocked out com-pletely in bidding on spips for the navy today, and that yard will get no awards. Henry T. Scott was here when the bids were opened, and had sub-mitted bids for building two crufsers. His bids were so high that there is no chance that he will get even one of them to build. has not figured the prices out yet, and is not prepared to say for certain that the Morans will get no contract, although it looks that way.

Scott offered this explanation: "There is nothing to it, except that the other fellows underbid us. So wet get no contracts—there's nothing doing."

The fact that the Union Iron Wo's nearly always heretofore has been successful in bidding for government contracts made some people recall that, some time ago, there were reports that the shipbuilding trust did not want that yard to take any more building of government ships. This was denied at the time all around.

The last ceremony he attended was in 1838 at the Temple, when Apostle Merrill officiated at the sealings.

John Nicholson, the chief recorder of the Mormon Temple at Sail Lake, was sworn. He said he was responsible for the safekeeping of the records and that so fair as he knew, no part of them had ever been taken from the Temple.

"I believe you were served with a subpoena to bring all the records in the Temple," asked Tayler.

FORTIFICATION OF WINES.

BRANDY MUST PAY TAX.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 .- [Exclusive WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In his annual report, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue recommended that when brandy is used to fortify wines, it be made to pay an additional tax, making the tax upon brandy so used exactly double the tax upon brandy actually consumed without brandy so used exactly double the tax on brandy actually consumed without being put into wines. This recommendation has stirred up California wine producers, who say that the imposition of the proposed double tax will ruin their business, and they have sent protests to Washington against it.

They declare that now they are up against almost impossible competition from spurious wines, and that if the recommendation of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is adopted by Congress, it will lead to "moonshining" in California.

Mr. Hill insisted that he would go on with the discussion notwithstanuars. After Mr. Adams of Pennsylvania had spoken in favor of the bill, general debate was closed by a vote of 93 to 66, and the house, by 122 to 107, then considered the bill, under the five-minute rule. An amendment was offered by Mr. Williams, requiring the payment of interest by banks on government deposits, and limining the amount to be competition for the same.

Mr. Hitchcock of Nebraska said that if adopted it would prevent political favorites from getting hold of the deposits.

Mr. Hill, opposing the amendment, said that as the bill was merely an administrative one, the government should be permitted to handle its money in exactly the same way as an individual would apply to himself.

This statement caused Mr. Cockran of New York to remark that for that reason he would support the amendment, declaring that the Democrats were not suggesting a party measure, but rather joining with the Republicans to make the conditions more secure. Mr. Cockran urged his Republican colleagues to vote for the amendment.

Whistles and mouth organs were requisitioned and added to the deafening din occasioned by the slamming of desks and the shouting of the Deputies, the whole opposition chanting in chorus "Resign."

With folded arms, the Premier stood for a full half-hour. Each time he opened his mouth demoniac shrieks drowned his voice. Finally, the Premier was obliged to desist, and the sitting was suspended for the third time. At a conference between the Liberal members of Parliament and Premier Tisza the situation was discussed—it was settled that if the opposition continued its obstruction tactics an appeal would shortly be taken to the country. Fullest assent to the attitude of the Premier was expressed.

Annual Ceremonial Session of Al Malaikah.

Daughters of Isis Will Meet This Evening.

The horrible noises which emanated from the vicinity of Central Park last algebra called thither a squad of Los Angeles' most valiant police' officers.
They bravely proceeded towards the seeming center of the noise district, and then discovered that the Mystic Spriners of Al Malaikah Temple were "at it again," and that fifty victims were wending their way across the barning sands, while 1000 Shriners belped them along with all the refined fortures that have been thought out since the time when the first Arabs since the time when the first Arabs began to work at the Shriner busi-ress out on the sands of the "land of the blest."

When a Times reporter wandered around to Temple Auditorium last night be was just in time to see a well-known medical practitioner, clad in faulties evening suit and crowned with the red fez of the ancient Arabian orcer, rush out to buy some castor of with which to revive one of the victims who had fallen by the wayside. What other devility these men of the red fez did, the recording angel only knows. It couln't be given out for publication.

Under a special dispensation granted by the Imperial Potentate, Al Malakah Temple was enabled to initiate a class of fifty candidates at its annual ceremonial session last night. These came from various sections of Southern California, and were distributed as follows: Los Angeles, twenty-two; Ventura, one; San Diego, one: Pomona, three; Riverside, two: San Luis Obispo, one: Pasadena, three; Banta Ana, two; Orange, five; Santa Paula, one; Los Beach, three; Full-roto, one.

Fully 200 visiting Shriners were present, coming from temples in many paris of the United States. Altogether there were present about 100 nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and it was one of the livellest meetings ever held-by the Shriners in Southern California.

After the initiatory ceremonies a banquet was spread in the auditorium annex, and plates were laid for 1000 persons. Prior to the initiation a supper had been served to the visitors at the banquet hall in Masonic Temple.

Today the visitors will carry out plans for sightseeing and pleasure trips. Tonight will occur the annual election of Al Malakah Temple, and this will be followed by the annual election of Al Malakah Temple, and this will be followed by the annual meeting of the Daughters of Los. Milo M. Potter "did things up brown" at the Potter In Santa Bartsbare yesterday and the day before in honor of the Hotel Men's Association, which met there to talk things over. Twenty prominent California bonifaces were his guests. He took them in tallyhos out to his pigeon and poulty farm, unlocked all the secrets of the culinary department, and made each one feel as if he owned the place. Incidentally, the tourist lovers "got together" on some big advertising schemes and discussed the advisability of sending a man East to represent the association in all the larger cities and divert tourist travel to California. The former scheme provides for a full-page advertisement in twelve popular magazines for the months of Pebruary. March and April. The latter proposition did not meet with favor on the part of some of the men, and, will probably be given up. The meeting lasted until 1 o'clock yesterday morning, and was snappy from start to finish.

Count Boni's Palace.

Count Boni's Palace.

The house that Count Boni de Castellane built in the Avenue du Bois du Bologne is once more the senisation of the hour. Since its outer walls, forming an almost exact copy of the Grand Trianon Palace at Versailles, were first displayed to an admiring public, a few years ago, it had ceased to be much talked about. Now Count Boni de Castellane and the Countess, née Gould, are astonishing Paris again by the splendor of its fitting up. After a lull of some years work has been resumed in the palace, and again Versailles is being copied. The grand drawing-room is being decorated in exact imitation of the Salon d'Hercule in the palace of Louis XIV. The walls are to be almost entrely of white, pink, and saftron yellow marble, with "dashes of emerald, ruby and opal," whatever those may be. The painted cellings of the Hercules room is being exactly copied. The salon is thirty-seven feet by forty feet. There will be no curtains to the immense windows. In the evening gigantic mirrors, hidden in the woodwork, will be sild out in front of the panes, and will completely conceal them. The flooring is also to be an accurate copy of thac, of the Salon d'Hercule. In this respect is also to be an accurate copy of that of the Salon d'Hercule. In this respect, however, difficulties are met with however, difficulties are met with, Louis XIV had each piece of oak, aft. to the same and piece of one, attracted and the lofts of Versailles for five years before it was laid down. The result is that not a board has warped by a fraction of an inch to this day. Such elaborate thoroughness is, it appears, impossible now.—(London Telegraph.

Brain of a Statesman.

Prof. Retzius of Sweden has recently described the brain of a Swedish statesman, whose name, is withheld, but who was Prime Minister at 40, and a highly gifted jurist, thinker, orator, and philanthropist. He was tall, blonde, and of the genuine Swedish type. His brain weighed 1489 grams, was well formed, and richly convoluted. Seen from behind it is ovoid, and widest at the subparteal region. The frontal and parietal association areas are complex and rich in fissures, but otherwise without redundancy of development, as was to be expected, for he was a good all-round man. He was a clear and skillful debater, and could familiarize himself with arts and sciences. This well-balanced mind, or harmonious construction of mental abilities, agrees with the symmetry of his brain. It is noticeable, however, that the left subfootlagers (the more his brain. It is made to lead. The designs are newer and the fabrics more fashionable. It is more skillfully finished and cut in latest styles. The materials are properly shrunk and the inside detail more reliable. It fits better because it is better tailored, and it lasts longer and holds its shape better for the same cause. These are the reasons why it leads in elegance and quality. The price contributes to its popularity. It is lower than others.

Intercollegiate Debate.

Wednesday evening, in the college chapel of the University of Southern California, the local debate for the purpose of choosing representatives for the Intercollegiate contest between the University of the Pacific and U.S.C. was held. George C. Washburn of the College of Law, and Charles Scott of the College of Liberal Arts were the two men who made good in the local contest. The subject chosen is: "Resolved, that the principles of the initiative and referendum should be incortive and referendum should be incorsolved, that the principles of the initiative and referendum should be incorporated into municipal law in the United States." The northern university will uphold the affirmative, and the U.S.C. men, who have chosen the negative, befieve they have the easier side of the argument. The debate will take place at San José on January P. Dragon's Tenteum.

No one was hurt, and the operator who though fright-emed and very red in the face, had managed to keep his seat, was heard to remark as he again got the machine into working order: "Well, I am glad that tantrum is over."

WILL WRECK OLD CHURCH.

Historic Congregational Pile to Go Down Today.

Failure of Attempt to Sell Building at Auction.

This morning will mark the begin ning of a work that will be noted with melancholy interest by hundreds of meiancholy interest by hundreds of people. It is the tearing down of the old First Congregational Church edifice, at the southwest corner of Sixth and Hill streets.

Early this forenoon a gang of wreckers will begin the dismemberment of the old structure whose walls have witnessed so many scenes of human interest; the gistening of the deeps interest: the glistening of the drops from the baptismal fount on the sweet white brow of the babe, as the fond parents held it forth to receive from the minister the christening rite; the happy faces of strong young manhood and loving, beautiful womanhood as the twain stood before the altar and in church, while it was leased as the meeting place for the Temple Bap-meeting place for the Temple Dap-tists.

At the time-of the World's Methodist General Conference, many interesting sub-sessions were held in the old audi-torium, and the most prominent speak-ers in Methodism were there.

The corner-stone of the building was laid on April 13, 1889, and many of the teachers and pupils of the Sunday-school laid some of the bricks of the foundations.

She is remembered by members of the firm of Barker Bros., furniture dealers, who sold her a magnificent bedroom set of three pieces for $1000, and who had to threaten to bring suit efore obtaining the money.

As some so the place is cleared Judge Silent will have men at work on the excavations for a large tourist hotel, which he will creet during the coming year. It is expected that the new building will be a six-story structure.

this city and they took up their abode in the famous Johnson mansion on New High street, at that time one of the finest residences in the city. For a time their married life was all that could be uesired and after a time a baby boy came to bless the union. All went well for more than a year, when the husband began to neglect his wife and be cruel to, her. Quarrels became, frequent, and the estrangement culminated in divorce proceedings in the Superior Court, the wife alleging cruelty and brutality. There was no contest of the divorce, but the father did fight for the custody of, the child. The mother secured a decree and was awarded the laws than a hay of agest the divorce, but the father did fight for the custody of the child. The mother secured a decree and was awarded the baby, then a boy of about fifteen months. The father swore to have his child and soon after he abducted they baby and disappeared.

The abduction caused a sensation as the parties were well known, and the authorities used every possible means to restore the child to the mother. So carefully had Johnson laid his plans, however, that no trace of him or of the baby boy could be found his plans, however, that no trace of him or of the baby boy could be found his plans, however, that no trace of him or of the baby boy could be found the search, expending nearly all her mouney in the effort to recover her child, but without success. Not a word did she hear of either her for men husband or of her baby until after a lapse of years she heard the child had died in the East.

Years passed and Mrs. Johnson married again, and after the death of her second husband she, after a long period, married a third time, her third husband being Mr. Ives.

The movements of Johnson after he left Los Angeles can only be traced by what the son, now a man, remembers. The first place he recollects the second the left the second the second that he expected to return to Los Angeles to the city for Yesterday in Los Angeles there was a happy reunion of mother and son; the mother having supposed her son was long since dead and having long ago given up a search for him, which she prosecuted for years.

It was not another Charlie Ross case, for the boy was not abducted for ransom. Hatred and revenge were the motives which impelled his father to remove him, a lisping babe, from his mother's arms and take him where he thought she would never see the child again.

But the eyes were the same, the features were unmistakable, the resemblance to his father was there with such prominence that it could not be overlooked by the mother, who remembered that face so well. Best of all she knew him and mother-like, she was hardly content to let him get cut of her sight now that he has been restored to her.

Nearly twenty-five years ago Selina F. Abbott married R. E. Johnson in this city and they took up their abode about a years of age. How long they lived there he does not know. His father was good to him, watched him constantly and gave him a good common school education. From Chicago they moved to Indianapolis and there the boy became an apprentice in a machine shop and learned the machinists' trade.

and was told by his father that his mother had died while he was a baby. He was even given particulars of her death, and was told that he had no relatives in the world except the relatives of his father. The sequel shows that it was the studied effort of Johnson's life to keep from his son all knowledge of his mother, for it is now known that Johnson threatened to kill any of his relatives if they told the boy about the mother in Los Angeles. It is possible that Johnson may have intended to tell the boy the truth some day, but he waited too long. One day when the lad was at work in St. Louis he received a telegram informing him that his father had dropped dead at Indianapolis. Young Johnson—William Edwin is his name—went to Indianapolis to attend the funeral. There in the presence of his dead father, and while he was grieving because he was alone in the world, a cousin, Miss Louise Davis, daughter of his father's sister, told him of his mother. At first the young man refused to believe her. It was hard for him to realize that during all the years that he could remember, his father had lived with a constant lie upon his lips. But other relatives confirmed the statements of his cousin, and he finally came to believe the truth.

"I tottered to that room, as I thought, but I was so excited I made a mistake and even in my own house got to the wrong room. When finally i reached No. 43, I opened the door, and there he was standing in the middle of the room waiting for me. I cannot tell you how I felt then. My boy never knew his mother, but we are getting acquainted. I would not have known him had we met by accident, but when I study his face I find that I could not have been mistaken had I been permitted to get a good look at him."

The Fruit World company will suffer no loss, being amply secured.

HARTRANFT'S STATEMENT. M. V. Hartranft, president of the Fruit World Publishing Company, when told of the finding of Marshall's

"I hardly believe this was a case of suicide. Marshall was very fond of hunting, and spent a great deal of time on that line. He has been in poor health for over a year and there was some internal trouble in the company with regard to the management of his department. We, however, be-lieved that any errors that occurred arose from an overworked condition and lack of judgment as he was less than 25 years old. Acting on this view of affairs, he was given leave of absence on full pay for several months, and we had fully expected to flud his accounts coming out in proper shape. He has been in a very low state of health for many months brought on by overwork. In this condition he pursued a course which resulted in disagreement among the stockholders and his retirement, pending readjustment of his department. He was a young man of many good qualities and his former associates in this company will be shocked and grieved to learn of his untimely death." arose from an overworked condition

About one-fourth of the entire number of deaths were occasioned by tuberculosis. Over half these cases were persons who were sent to Los Angeles from some eastern State in the last stagragy of the disease, and died, sometimes in the cars, oftener in the city or county hospital and away from friends and home comforts.

There were $72 cases of diphtheria reported at the health office. This is a greater number than has occurred during any previous year, but the death rate from the disease is less than one-fourth that of some other years. GARDNER WHIPS O'KEEFE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.] BUTTE (Mont.) Dec. 15.—Jimmy ardner of Lowell, Mass., defeated ir eleven rounds, in what was to have been a twenty-round contest. When the gong sounded for the twelfth round, O'Keefe's seconds threw up the After the first round, Gardner showed his superiority by landing vi-cious rights and lefts frequently to O'Keefe's wind, body and face. In the seventh round, O'Keefe was smeared with blood, which came from an ugly cut in his under lip. In this round both men rushed into the mill. and at the end were noticeably weak. In the eighth round, O'Keefe, who was handicapped by his disabled left

Fip. which was thrown out in the fourth round, landed some effective body punches. Both men went to their corners looking tired.

In the tenth round, Gardner landed on O'Keefe's wind with his left, and swung to the jaw with the right, o'Keefe went down for the nine count, but came up smiling, and in the latter part of the round made Gardner uneasy.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 15.

-D. V. Cowden, '03, has been engaged as head coach for the coming baseball at once to develop material at Columseason at Stanford University, Prac-bia.

Association, which put up nearly $100,000 for its two meetings and a larger amount for each meeting than any other association except Readville, will have the same $5000 and $16,000 events as the early-closing stakes and perhaps a few thousand dollars more than last year.

Detroit, which opens the circuit, will be moree liberal than ever in 1905. Cleveland, perhaps, will hang up more money, and the same is true for suffish. The England Breeders Association, according to the reports, made more money in 1904 than at any time in a decade, and hence the Readville card for 1905 will offer a few more thousands. Providence may go back to the $10,000 mark for its Park I-rew and Roger Williams stakes.

There will be no reduction at Charlet Oak and Oakley Park. Some Lew futurity events are scheduled for 1905, and the old ones remain the same, so that it is fair to suppose that the "big line," including Syracuse and Lexington, will distribute $500,000 in 1906.

COLUMBIA ORGANIZING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Students at Columbia who are interested in wrestling have taken the initiative in the formation of an intercollegiate association for the promotion of wrestling championships. Negotiations were opened with Yale, Princeton, Cornell and the University of Pennsylvania for coloperative inseress in making this a regular form of intercollegiate athat at once to develop material at Columbia.

A competent coach will be secured at once to develop material at Columbia.

It might be remarked that but one favorite won and that was Sais in the fourth race who got in with some-

the fourth race who got in with some-thing to spare from a very good field. In this race the good thing Luckett was kicked at the post and Judge Denton was almost left when the barrier went up. Plenty of money was burned upon this start and the books must have made considerable, aside from the play on Sais.

Hilona took the first race easily from the favorite, Light of Day, Bluerilye won the third from the favorite Freesias, and Invictus and Sir Christopher the fifth and sixth, the latter two and Blueridge being at 4 to 1. It was a bad day for those on the ground and the switching of the jockeys put all the sports at sea.

and the switching of the jockeys put all the sports at sea.

The last race was delayed over five minutes by a horse caller Merry Sport. At the barrier he decided to start before the others were ready and in going under the string, scraped his jockey, Bock, off on the ground, ran clear around the track and through the bunch of horses at the barrier again. He was finally caught about a quarter of a mile down the track after he had knocked a board off the fence, and was put into the race. He got away almost last but ran the race and actually beat three other horses. Tom Williams and Adam Andrew, who are heavily interested in the track at Oakland and San Francisco, were at Ascot yesterday to see how we do things down here. Abe Levy, the big New York "Met" bookmaker was also there looking around.

sized crowd is expected Saturday in consequence. The tussle promises to be as hard-fought as any gridiron buttle of the present season, and the winner will certainly know that a match has been played when the last half is ended.

Los Angeles High will be crippled somewhat by the loss of half-back Kidder, who is seriously III. Smith may also be out of the game, but the locals expect to put up a strong front nevertheless.

Walter Hempel made the High School boys/a handsome present yesterday when he gave them a dozen and a half of the finest, heaviest sweaters obtainable. These went to such of the football players as have participated in two or more games.

The local lads have done considerable work, for the championship trial, and feel that they are quite fit to render a good account of themzelves tomorrow.

Manager McCarey Announces That the Game Will Probably be Resumed Early in January—Kid McCoy Has Feels Better Than Ever Here.

Now that election is past, the thoughts of Thomas Jefferson Mc-Carey, bookmaker, have returned to his first love, the boxing game.

Several days ago the tip was quietly passed out by the promoter that there would be something doing for the mittmen early in the coming year, and Kid McCoy, perhaps the pri party at interest excepting the fistic boss himself, was not long in act-ing upon it. Tuesday, January 17, is the prospective date, though McCarey cannot make a definite announcement until a certain real estate deal now pending has been closed. It is upon the piece of property involved that the house is to be erected.

Sullivan with a few pounds more weight is bound to be a better min than when he met McCoy before. He is a youngster and a comer, while the Kid is already past the zenith of his career. When they met before, Kiddo had the best of the weights, but it is not assured that he will enjoy this advantage again.

Tuning up and Making Better Time. Oldfield's Blue Streak a Swift Little Car-What the Horsemen Think of Auto Game. Barney Oldfield and Frank Garbutt were the centers of attraction at Agri-cultural Park yesterday afternoon. The occasion was a sort of informal warming up for the races of today and to-morrow, and the favorite cars of these-gentlemen whizzed around the course many a time at speed closely approxi-many a time at speed closely approximating a milic a minute.

The Stewart-Gaitbutt racer has been tuned up almost to racing pitch, and during the week has done several miles better than 'any of its previous performances. Gasoline cars are capriclous creatures, although of iron, steel, copper and brass; in their whims they are apparently but little more reliable than a race horse, so predictions as to what a given machine will do must be made conditional upon how the engine warms up.

The harness-horse brigade were roosting on the rails yesterday watch-and these things have to be worked out just as much as any hoss. Look at that there Garbutt. He couldn't go fast enough to beat me the first time-around, but now he's catching his own dust!"

Which was literally true.
Oldfield did not try any of his racing cars yesterday, though one of his party sped around the track a few times in the Blue Streak, which is a twenty-four-horse-power Peerless car stripped. The machine sounds like an overworked Gatling gun. but appears to be very fast, running at a mile-aminute clip yesterday, and possibly beling capable of doing several seconds better.

minute clin yesterday, and possibly being capable of doing several seconds better.

Garbutt's determination to capture the amateur record is such that nothing less than a sheer failure of his machine will keep him from it. The alleged twenty-horse-power wind splitter, which he drives, is at present breaking in a new cylinder on which repairs were recently made. These left the bore of the cylinder rather rough, and the machine has to pull against more friction than would be the case were the parts more used to each other. A new carburetor was tried this week, but Mr. Garbutt found it necessary to return to the old one. He believes that with a proper mixture assured, his freak machine would be considerably faster than in its present form. As it is the car has made quite a hit with Barney Oldfield, who has given it unstinted praise.

King Barney took the wheel of a big Peerless touring car for a few spins on the track yesterday afternoon, carrying a tonneau load. He did not go in for any of his speed stunts, to the great disappointment of several hundred schoolboys, who had congregated in the hope of witnessing a free show.

The programme today will comprise a series of match races, trials against time, and events for local cars. The management has made some special arrangements for taking care of the crowd—action whose need was emphasized in yesterday's trials when a boy by an inch missed Garbutt's big racer trying to cross the track in front of

it. An interesting physical problem is presented: given a body weighing a ton traveling along a level track at the rate of sixty miles an hour and encountering a resistance of a hundred pounds, to wit: a boy, how many fences would the boy knock over before he came to a stop.

It is a problem that no one wishes to see solved by practical demonstration, and, therefore, those who go to Agricultural Park today would do well to remain behind whatever ropes or wires the management finds it advisable to stretch. Not only are the spectators endangering themselves, but they are also imperiling the lives of the nervy fellows on the track whose lives often hang upon an instant's swere at the wheel.

intents and purposes named officers to control athletic affairs for the coming year. The law students say the election was a farce in so far as the choosing of officers for U.S.C. is concerned. In a lengthy set of resolutions they contend that no election has taken place, as the Law College was not represented at the polls.

Not to be outdone by its larger sister, the law school, with its fifty-three students, called an election with the following result: For track captain, George C. Washburn; for baseball captain, Chester Smith; for general manager of athletics, Charles S. Wilson.

Yesterday, at a largely-attended meeting of the student body of the University of Southern California, action was taken on the resolutions drawn up by the Law College, and a formal apology was drafted. The law students were invited to take part in another election, and the dove of peace nestled securely within the shadow of the big brick walls, where so lately only discord had reigned.

BACKWARD STEP.

A For some years the people of the West have been knocking at the doors of Congress, asking for legislation repealing the desert land law, the Timber and Stone Act and the mutation clause of the Homestead Act. These appeals have been e in the interest of the people. and in order that such portions of the public domain as remain in the government's hands shall be reserved for sale to actual settlers, instead of being turned over to speculators and land-grabbers. The protection of these lands against the greed of speculators is also necessary if the government is to carry out the plans for a great system of national irrigation, to which it is committed.

In view of these facts, the action of view of these facts, the action of House Committee on Public tribunal of competent jurisdiction, regretted. For some time a bill has been pending before that committee providing for the repeal of these laws. When the question came up in the mittee on Wednesday, a motion was made to postpone considera-tion of the bill indefinitely, and motion was carried by a of 10 to 4. The four members voted against postponement Lacey of lowa (chafrman,) Miller of Kansas, Volstead of Minnesota and Needham of California.

Probably Impossible to Obtain Any Premonition of Violent Eruptions.

Eruptions.

[New York Tribune:] Vesuvius, which during the last few days has excited wonder and apprehension by a renewal of activity, is the scene of comparatively frequent demonstrations of this kind. Eruptions have been reported to be in progress there at least half a dozen times since 1872. One occurred only last year, in July. The outbreaks differ in violence, to be sure, but they usually effect a breach in the rim of the crater, and are attended by explosive phenomena which greatly startle the residents of adjacent cities startle the residents of adjacent cities and villages. Vesuvius, like Pelée, belongs to a class of volcanoes which are conspicuously unlike another, of which Mauna Loa is a notable representative. The former make a tremendous racket, but do not eject much material. The latter have a larger output, but conduct operations far more quietly.

The destruction wrought by volcanic action is accomplished in a variety of ways. AMERICAN SAILORS MANY TIMES SUCCESSFUL.

Investigation Shows, However, That They Were Not of Uncle Sam's Seeking-The Seaman's Proverbial Reverence for the Sabbath Day Capt. Philip's Advice to Sampson.

INew York Times: 1 It is a remarkable fact, and one that might be con-strued as a reproach on the much boasted American observance of the Sabbath, that nearly all of the really momentous naval battles in which the United States has been engaged were fought on a Sunday. Taking a list of forty of the real out-and-out naval and a quarter, one can pick out son and a quarter, one can pick out some twenty that could be called "momentous" or far-reaching in their effect; and of these (wenty about twelve or fifteen were fought on the sacred day. In all of the forty above-named actions, about seventeen took place on the Sabbath (or 40 per cent. of the entire number.) leaving the remaining 60 per cent. fought promiscuously ou the remaining six days of the week.

It might be argued from this singular circumstances that gallant tars of or that the first hostile shot was fired by the enemy.

It is not generally known that sailor folk, especially those of American blood, have a strong aversion for decrating the Sabbath by secular undertakings. This was foreibly illustrated in the late Spanish War. Every preparation had been made to begin the first of the serious humbardments of the sea Sunday, June 5. Before the council broke up, however, Capt. "Jack" Philip drew Admiral Sampson aside and very

CAPT. "JACK'S" ADVICE. "Sampson, don't you do it!"
"Do what!" said Sampson, a little surprised.

"Don't fight on Sunday."

"Because," said Philip, if you search all history you will find that whoever fired the first shot on Sunday was de-

"This proposition," says Admiral Higginson, who tells the story, "was immediately assailed by the Phillistine Captains, but Phillip stood his ground with simple and sincere carnestness, strong in his faith; and Sampson, who was himself a religious man, said in his simple way:

"Well, gentlemen, there seems to be some objection to fighting this action on Sunday, and, I must confess, I was brought up that way myself; so we will postpone the attack until Monday."

Whatever the facts in the case may be in reference to land battle, Philip's assertion as bearing on our naval actions certainly is largely supported in the instances of American sea fights, to the above-referred-to seventeen sea fights in which American warships were engaged on the Sabbath, few, if any, were the direct result of our seeking; and in every case the "first shot" was fired by the enemy—and the issue was the enemy's defeat.

the two other frigate actions io 1812, resulted directly in a complete revoludion in navai warfare. The American frigates involved, the Constitution (two times,) and the United States, embodied many new ideas in naval architecture which European experts had pronounced revolutionary, chimerical, and impracticable. In these three battles our "new frigates" had their first opportunity to demonstrate the practicability of these ideas, and in no case was it so thoroughly done as in the fight between the United States and the Macedonian.

But the Macedonian was one of the newest and best frigates then in the royal navy, having been built in 1809, while the United States I ad been designed in the preceding century. The result of these actions was that the Admiralty, before the close of the war, was compelled to build frigates "exactly upon the plan of the large American frigates," as the London Times, in its issue of March 14, 1814, expresses it.

As illustrating the wickedness of Sunday fighting on the water, we have the case of the President and the Little Belt. On a certain Sabbath in 1811, our President was pursuing her way (with a big stick harmlessly tucked under her arm) along the New Jersey coast, when she was suddenly attacked by the Little Belt. In self-defense our ship returned the fire, and soon compelled the irreverent Englishman to surrender. After giving him a severe lecture and some sound advice about the desceration of the Sabbath, the President allowed the Englishman to go his way, a sadder but wiser man. This Sunday squabble was largely instrumental in bringing about the War of 1812—hence the moral.

were strongly hostile to the suggestion. The local hagent of one of the largest shipping organizations in California said:

"There is only one element connected with the whole citrus fruit industry of California which could view with favor the abolishing of the postage-stamp freight rate under which oranges and lemons are shipped, and that element would be a small handful of commission receivers who overlook the broad usefulness of the flat rate for selfish reasons of their own. The flat rate to east-of-the-river points is one of the chief mainstays of California's citrus industry. It means that when California growers find the Chicago or Middle West markets filled up with their own and oranges from competing sections they can, without additional freight cost, divert their cars into any market of the east (north of the Ohio River.) thereby relieving the point where the glut occurred. Under this flat-rate arrangement a merchant in any town east of Kansas City can buy from any overstocked point, satisfying the demand of his own market and restoring equilibrium to the overstocked market. Hundreds of such instances occur here in Chicago every month, and frequently the 'neat' diversion of a few cars of fruit saves the complete smashing of the market at this point. Thus California growers have the combined benefits of all the markets, under one flat rate and the high fundersupplied) markets at sail times. "Deterioration of the fruit sometimes occurs by the time the car reaches a willing market, but the loss is proportionately, small compared with that which would ensue if the fruit were allowed to lie at a glutted point."

FLORIDA TOMATOES. Bad weather is reported to have played havoc with the tomate crop on the sistern coast the tomate crop on the sistern coast of Florida, where about one-third of list year's production will be had, Farmers had a hard time getting plants enough for even that much of a yield. The reports are, however, very favorable for the spring crop, a large acreage having been planted. The Cuba fever seems to have struck South Florida farmers and there is a good deal of talk about the excellent advantages for truck growers on the big island lying a few hours ride south. Quite a number of Florida to mate ogrowers are going to Cuba to try their luck. The soil and climate there is said to be particularly adapted to tomate growing and as the transportation charges are very little more than from South Florida points to the northern markets, they see no reason why farming there would not pay.

ORANGES IN NEW YORK. The

ORANGES IN NEW YORK. The Florida orange trade is badly demoralized, every day beiging confirmation of this in eastern papers. Receipts of the Florida product are very liberal, and prices are at a very low ebb. At auction sales they have ranged from 15 cents to $2.75 a crate for the very fanciest, and it is said to be difficult to get over $2 for choice fruit. A heavy receiver of Florida recently visited the State and reports that the crop is about 2.250,000 boxes, and that there is a very thick growth on the inside of the trees, which was not the case last year. Rains are said to be delaying shipments. A dispatch to the Kansas City Packer from New York says that if the Southern California product is not too green, it should have a good run on the market. ORANGES IN NEW YORK. The

NO FORTY-CENT EGGS. There were no 40-cent eggs to be found in the local market vesterday, and not a dealer on the street ventured to claim that price for them. The ruling price was 356-35 cents for ranch. It was said that a few occasional sales of extra fancy goods were made at 35 cents, and one-dealer expressed the belief that the price would again reach 40 before the first of the year, but this optimistic view was not generally shared by others. There is some complaint of small sized eggs in many consignments, showing that pullets are laying and supplying much of the product shipped into the city. The eastern storage stock is selling at 246-27 cents as the ruling price. At San Francisco the price for ranch ranges from 35 to 40.

The local market was fairly active yesterday in some lines affd duli in others. There were no changes made at the Produce Exchange.

A pretty little wedding was solock, in the pariors of the Friends Church, corner of Fourth street and Fremont avenue, where Prof. Ar an Clifton Brown and Mrs. Nettle Beeson were united in marriage, Rev. Levi D. Barr, pastor of the church, officiating. The couple stood beneath an arch of smilax, in whose meshes pink and white roses were cauchted to the decorative scheme. The bride, who is a handsome brunette, wore a pretty gown of gray grantie silk, made en traine and finished with tucks. The waist contained a yoke of chiffon, with bertha, and sleeves were finished with lace. She carried a shower bouquet of roses.

As the couple approached the altar, Miss Ethel Phillis rendered the "Wedding March" from "Chengrin" and at the close of the service the Mendelssohn march was given. After a short wedding trip Prof. and Mrs. Brown will make their home at No. 1993 Alessandro street. Prof. Brown has been in the Los Angeles schools for some years, and is well known in educational circles, being the principal of the McKinley-avenu school. Delighted With the City Where So Many Canucks Have Found a Pleasant Abiding Place-New Sanatorium for Consumptives-Notable

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 15 .- Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier and members of their party, Mrs. Edwards, Miss Contu and R. Boudreau, Sir Wilfrid's private secretary, arrived in the city last night and rested at the Glenwood Tavern. This morning the entire party accepted the invitation of Francis Cuttle for an auto ride over the valley. Mr. Cut-tle and F. A. Little, in Mr. Little's machine, took Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier; Mr. Little's chauffeur, in W. G. Fraser's machine, took the other three members of the party; and Mrs. Cuttle, with Mrs. Martin Chase, occupied a third car. The drive included a spin over the Chase drive toward Highgrove, then down Victoria ave-nue, stopping at the Arliagon Height's packing-house, and making a short stop at Sherman Institute on the return trip, via Magnolla aveque. Sir Riverside is far ahead of my anticipations," he said this afternoon. "I had expected to see a much smaller place. It is the most beautiful point I have visited in California. I was de-lighted to see so many of my home friends so charmingly quartered."

Mr. and Mrs. Cuttle and Mr. Little unched with the Premier at the Glenwood at noon; and this afternoon the purity, with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Castleman and P. S. Castleman, went for an auto spin to Brocton avenue, to visit the grove of J. C. Edwards, a former neighbor of the Premier in Ottowa.

BOX SPRINGS SANITARIUM.

Up on the Box Springs grade to the east of Riverside, on the line of the Santa Fé to San Jacinto and the back country, Dr. Louise N. Androus has established a little cluster of tent houses, under the protecting shade of a score of big trees, which is to be known as the "Box Springs Sanitarium" Or rather it is at present the nucleus for a future sanitarium which is to harbor the sufferers fleeling from the ravages of the "white plaque." Dr. Androus had for a starter an old ranch house, for many years abandoned, surrounded by this minature forest of big trees, and supplied with the purest of mountain water 'trickling from the rocks of the mountain size. The high elevation and freedom from dampness and frost, coupled with the pure air and water, makes it an ideal spot for such a settlement. Dr. Androus will make up the first colony from her old home in the East; and the favor with which the move is looked upon here will probably make the settlement a populous one before the winter is past.

They were followed from the north by their employer, J. F. prosecution can convince him of their guilt.

A connecting link in the chain of evidence being woven about the two suspects was found this morning when a Santa Fé engineer, B. H. Lent picked up the revolver with which Messenger Roberts was shot down. The weapon was found lying near the railroad track half a mile west of Lavic. It is a 44-caliber Colt. Undersheriff McNab tonight telegraphed to Los Angeles for the buffet which was extracted from the body of Roberts. For this revolver the Sheriff has been looking for days, believing if the men now in custody are guilty they threw the weapon away after wounding Roberts.

She was a passenger on the train, and it is expected that she will corroborate her husband's statement that he went to the coach where she was sleeping, and arousing her informed her that she was, to change cars at Barstow. The other witness is a negro Pullman porter, who will further corroborate this statement, Jarvis stating that the porter guided him to the berth where his wife was sleeping.

It has been largely due to her influence that Alexieff has kept his place as Viceroy in Manchuria. The reigning Empress has never supported him nor any of the retrograde measures of the Russian ministers. President Palmer of the World's Fair Committee of 1893, in one of his speeches at that time, told a story about a boy whose father was a stern man, who used the boy very harshly at times. Ten years later he came back after many voyages. He felt sure that he had not been a dutiful son, so he thought he would go home and see his old father and beg his forgiveness. As he neared the old familiar place his eyes filled with tears. The thought occurred to him to look in at the window, and there sat his father in the same old place, just as he used to sit so long ago. The old scene arose to the son's mind, and going around to the same old place, just as he used to six so long ago.
